REQUISITION DATING

To avoid potential confusion and ensure requisitions are current, please ensure the “date of request” field on the exam requisition is completed. This is particularly important if a patient has multiple requisitions – eg. for initial exam and subsequent follow up exams.

IMPORTANCE OF HISTORY

Accurate clinical information helps us schedule patients as quickly as possible. When the patient history clearly supports the requested examination, we can process the requisition more efficiently. If the history is missing, incomplete, or does not align with the examination ordered, we may need to contact your office before booking, which can delay the appointment.

To support timely scheduling, please provide the relevant clinical history for every requested examination. If more than one exam is ordered, include supporting history for each.

STAT CASES

Timely imaging is vital, and we continue to accommodate STAT requests whenever possible. It is important that exams be indicated as STAT or URGENT based on clinical factors. Please do not hesitate to indicate an exam is STAT if the prognostic factors support an urgent status (i.e. a high suspicion for malignancy).

However, please reserve this designation for truly urgent cases. This allows us to prioritize critical patients and maintain timely service for everyone. If you are unsure whether an imaging request should be designated as STAT, please contact us at bd@radiology.ca.

STAY CURRENT WITH REQUISITIONS

We regularly update our requisitions to improve clarity and support more efficient patient care. You can download the updated requisitions for integration into your EMR system. If you require printed copies, please contact us. Visit physicians.radiology.ca for the most current versions.

35 LANGUAGES AVAILABLE ON PATIENT WEBSITE

Our patient website, radiology.ca, is available in 35 different languages. Patients can select their preferred language to access exam prep instructions, explanation of services, descriptions of exams, directions for our locations, as well as health and wellness articles. Patients can access this feature from the top left-hand corner of our homepage at radiology.ca.
